Ireland in Parliament.

NEW YORK, July 2.—A cable special to the Tribune from London, says: The circumstances of the Blake murder convince the Government that it is only one incident of a rapidly spreading organization, whose programme is murder for the sake of embitting the Anglo-Irish relations. The proceedings in the House all the week point in the same direction. Parnell is no longer willing or able to induce his followers to prolong the truce. The final collapse of his negotations with her Ministers was signalized by the announcement of a continuous sitting. The Irish members, during the whole night, deliberately resorted to every means of exasperation, including systematic obstruction. The language used was incredible in indecency and ferocity. This ended, as they expected and desired, in their expulsion, to which the House reluctantly resorted after patient endurance and reiterated insults, in which the so-called moderate Irish rivaled Healy himself in violence. Justin McCarthy called Sir William Harcourt the bravo of the Treasury bench. He fully identified himself with the worst section of the Irish party. Playfair's conduct goes far to redeem his previous indecision. O'Donnel, in denouncing his ruling as an infamy, missed the whole point in the excitement. Playfair, before naming the obstructionists, expressly declared that he took into account their conduct the last three days. The whole Liberal party, a dozen guerrilla Radicals excepted, heartily sustained the Government in its present determination. Those knowing Ireland best agree in declaring that the condition is far graver than the public yet suspects. The prolongation of this struggle over the Crime bill is pregnant with terrible dangers. Kavanagh's scheme for an Irish land corporation has aroused the most violent hostility of the Parnellites.

AUSTRALIA.

MELBOURNE, June 15.—Budget proposals of the Government have been much criticised, especially the proposed remissions of taxation of the franchise in behalf of the constitutional party. It was moved yesterday that remission is inconvenient and undesirable in view of the improbability of a surplus, and in view of the fact of the royal commission now investigating.

Francis stated the resolution was not intended as a vote of want of confidence, but he considered the estimates sanguine.

O'Loghlen moved an adjournment of the house. It is not yet known whether the Government will accept the resolution in a friendly or hostile spirit.

Addresses to the Irish people, prepared by Gratton, of the Centenary Commission, signed by members of the assembly, contained language which has been characterized as seditious and treasonable. The assembly passed a resolution, on motion of Francis, condemning the actions of the signers as expressing unswerving loyalty to the maintenance of the united empire. The Governor telegraphed Kimberley the above resolution.

SYDNEY, June 15.—The new South Wales railways last year paid five and one-third per centum upon the capital invested.

Late heavy rains have greatly improved herbage in the country districts. Stock is consequently improving.

BRISBANE, June 14.—The railway from Brisbane to Logan river will shortly be commenced.

An armed party visited Melville Island, north of Palmerston, inhabited only by fierce blacks. Thousands of buffaloes were seen; the numerous umbrageous trees and soil are highly spoken of.

BURDOCK Blood Bitters is not a Whiskey Stimulant or fancy drink to pander to the depraved appetite of the intemperate, but a pure vegetable life-giving Tonic and regulator of the secretions. It acts promptly on the Bowels, the Liver, the Blood and the Kidneys, purifying and giving tone to the entire system. Try a Sample Bottle which Costs only 10 Cents, Large Bottles $1. 27

MRS. SIDNEY WILSON having returned from San Francisco will be prepared to received her music pupils on and after the 1st proximo. Instruction given either at the pupil's or at Mrs. Wilson's residence, Frederick street, where a piano for daily practice is at the service of those pupils who have no instrument. Lessons given in the evening if preferred.
June 26th.

NEITHER the Syndicate, the Scott Act, nor the Irish question causes half the sensational comment that is caused by the popularity of Burdock Blood Bitters. This great remedy is marvellous in its success in curing Chronic disease when other medicines have failed. It is the best Blood Purifying Tonic and Liver Invigorator known. A specific for all diseases of Blood, Liver and Kidneys. Sample Bottles 10 Cents.

A sure cure for dyspepsia. The Oregon Blood Purifier. Use before meals as directed.

Blank Book Manufactory and Book Bindery.

Paper ruled to any pattern. Tickets, Receipts, etc., numbered and perforated. Charts and maps mounted. The best classes of modern machinery employed. R. T. WILLIAMS, Government street, entrance through Messrs. Hibben & Co's store. *

A. B. DES ROCHERS, Arthabaskaville, P. Q., writes:—"Thirteen years ago I was seized with a severe attack of Rheumatism in the head, from which I nearly constantly suffered, until after having used Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil for nine days, bathing the head, etc., when I was completely cured, and have only used half a bottle. 50

FOR all purposes of a family medicine HAGYARD'S YELLOW OIL will be found invaluable. Immediate relief will follow its use. It relieves pain, cures chilblains, frostbites, scalds, burns, corns, rheumatism, neuralgia, &c. For internal use it is none the less wonderful. One or two doses frequently cure sore throat. It will cure croup in a few minutes. A few bottles has often cured asthma. Colic has been cured in fifteen minutes by a teaspoonful dose. It cures with the utmost rapidity. It is really a wonderful medicine. 28.

MISCELLANEOUS.

TO THE ELECTORS OF VICTORIA DISTRICT.

GENTLEMEN:—AS I AM A CANDIDATE FOR your votes and interest at the forthcoming election of members to serve in the Legislative Assembly, it becomes my duty briefly to state the principles I hold.

In the first place, I am opposed to the present government; but as it is a mere makeshift, a new administration will have to be formed holding opinions consonant with those of the majority of the representatives of the electors.

I am of opinion that the permanent and progressive prosperity of the Province depends chiefly upon the increase of a settled white population and increased agricultural and other industrial productions, and in utilizing the mineral and other resources. It would be advantageous also to cultivate our bays, seas and inlets by the introduction of new varieties of fish, both crustacean and other, and benefit would also be derived were new kinds of timber trees introduced.

Whilst advocating measures to promote increased production I should also protest against the wanton destruction of our forests. Trees which have taken centuries to grow are burned and destroyed as though they were valueless. Means ought to be taken to prevent this loss except where necessary in clearing lands and utilizing the lumber.

Being a resident of the district I should of course do my best to urge the keeping of the roads and bridges in good repair and the construction of new ones where necessary.

The way to mitigate our condition is to encourage productive home industries. Now is the time actively to promote and foster these.

It will be advantageous to urge upon those who have lands locked up the necessity of settling them or throwing them open to settlement.

The Chinese evil is one that must be grappled with by the federal government at the instance of your federal and local representatives. I should like to see the Chinese supplanted by men of our own race, kindred and language as soon as possible. Any further importation of Chinamen is neither desired nor desirable. It is to be hoped that our members at Ottawa and our local government will succeed in making the federal government see and understand the magnitude of the evil and induce them to pass remedial measures, and at the same time find means of sending immigrants to displace those now here.

As a matter of course I am in favor of the construction of the Vancouver Island railway; but the insane action of the local government in breaking the contract relating thereto without consulting the Canadian and British governments, also parties to the contract, has at least jeopardized its construction. Previous to this mad action the Province could demand as a right what it will now have to solicit as a favor. The local government should not have undertaken a work promised and intended to be performed by the federal government. How far the question of compensation may have been endangered remains yet to be learned.

The dry dock being not a local but a national work should not have been undertaken by the local government, and had they had a correct judgment of their own capacity they would never have meddled with it. As it is they have shown to the Province and to the world at large their gross incapacity and criminal negligence. The dock must be built, but its affairs are so muddled that it is impossible at present to see clearly its condition and prospects. If it be possible to turn the dock over to the Canadian government, and if they will at the same time agree to finish it without saddling the Province with additional debt, then let them by all means have it.

With these and other enormous difficulties glaring at us it is essentially expedient and advisable that the local government should be in harmony with the federal government, amicability being the best and probably an allowable way of producing some order out of the chaos so wilfully caused by the late Walkem government. There must be no more sham questions to manufacture to direct people's attention abroad in order to blind them to and distract them from most important local matters with which they are most concerned and which have been so direfully mismanaged.

If you honor me by making me one of your representatives I will do my best to serve your interests and those of the Province at large, and will support any new ministry whose policy shall be the amicable settlement of existing difficulties, the promotion of provincial industries and measures calculated to remove or remedy the great existing evils and give our district at least her due. Measures, not men. At the same time considerable latitude and forbearance will [illegible] work before them.

G. A. McT[illegible]

North Saanich, July 5, 1882. jy6 dw

To the Electors of the City of Victoria.

GENTLEMEN:—THE GENEROUS SUPPORT you have always accorded me induced me to accept the leadership of the Government, rendered vacant by the resignation of Mr. Walkem, and in soliciting your suffrages, at the approaching election I feel confident that I shall receive every assistance in the discharge of the new duties devolving upon me from all well-wishers of the Province.

I am gratified to be able to state that the financial position of the Province has never been more satisfactory. Instead of a large deficit, debentures matured and unpaid, heavy bank overdraft, salaried officers, merchants and mechanics unpaid all over the Province, as was the case four years ago, with the certain prospect of increased taxation, had the party in power under the Elliott Administration retained office, the Walkem Government can show for their term just expired reduction in taxation, reduction in the public debt, a surplus revenue, and large sums expended out of revenue for Education, Public Works and other services of practical utility. The credit of the Province has never stood higher; and instead of three-quarters of a million dollars of provincial bonds being disposed of at a considerable discount, as in 1877, not one bond has been issued below par.

The immense influx of Chinese into the Province calls for united action on our part. Constant and repeated efforts have been made by the Provincial Government and Legislature to prevail upon the Dominion to take such action as will remedy this great evil, and it is gratifying to observe that the Government at Ottawa now realize the importance of moving in this matter.

It is important that every effort should be put forth to induce members of our own and kindred races to make their homes in this Province.

The Legislative Assembly, at its last session passed a bill to enable the Vancouver Island and Railway Co. to construct a railway from Esquimalt to [illegible] Narrows. The projectors deposited $[illegible],000 as a guarantee that bonds amounting to $250,000 would be placed in the hands of the Government as security for the construction of the railway. The company not having complied with the provisions of the Bill the Island Railway question is again brought into its former position. The land reserve remains as in act as when made in 1873, and it devolves upon the Government once more to take action on this important subject.

In consequence of the contractors not making satisfactory progress with the construction of the Graving Dock, it became necessary to take the preliminary steps to enable the Government to proceed with the work. Every effort will be made to finish the Dock as early as possible.

As I hold that under the ballot system it is the duty of a candidate to meet the electors upon a public platform in order to explain his views, I shall take an early opportunity to do so, in the meantime assuring you that, if elected, I shall always advocate the rights of the Province generally, and that the interests of this city will be my first care.

I have the honor to remain, Gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
ROBERT BEAVEN.

TO THE ELECTORS OF VICTORIA CITY.

GENTLEMEN:—AS ONE OF THE FOUR GENtlemen selected by the convention I beg to solicit the honor of your suffrages and I do so in the firm conviction that any change is preferable to a continuance of the deplorable incapacity of the existing government. Since they have held the reins of power our relations with the Dominion have been strained and instead of a cordial co-operation for our mutual benefit there has been a half-concealed distrust of a friendly government.

Much of the legislation for the past few years has been of a retrogressive character and many acts have been disallowed as trenching on the authority of the Dominion Parliament.

The enforcement of the collection of Provincial taxes has been unduly harsh and oppressive.

The removal of the Vancouver Island lands from the railway belt after having been locked up for so many years has rendered the construction of the Victoria and Nanaimo Railway as a portion of the Canada Pacific line very doubtful.

The blundering over the drydock and the arbitrary refusal of even allowing the claims of Messrs. Reid Brothers and their numerous creditors to be considered are subjects which vitally effect the credit of the Province and must inevitably delay the construction of necessary public works until the liabilities thus incurred are met.

I shall advocate the entire exclusion of Chinese and any measures which will have the effect of restricting their presence in this province will meet my support.

I shall forward the construction of the Island Railway in the mode best calculated to advance the interests of the Province, and strive to lessen the friction between the Dominion and the Province; and if I am honored with your confidence I shall give my support to any government which in my opinion will conduct the public business on sound principles and with honesty and integrity.

I have the honor to be, Gentlemen,

TO THE ELECTORS OF THE CITY OF VICTORIA.

GENTLEMEN:—AS I AM A CANdidate for Victoria City at the approaching Provincial election I beg to solicit your votes and influence and a renewal of the confidence with which for the past four years you have honored me. In doing so I express the hope that my conduct as one of your representatives has been such as to meet with your approval and that you recognize that my efforts have been steadily directed to the welfare of Victoria and British Columbia.

All measures introduced in the Legislature calculated to advance your interests and the prosperity of this Province have received my hearty support. Among those of a local nature which have secured important advantages to you, I mention the abolition of Provincial taxation on real estate in Municipalities, the appointment of Police Magistrate and control of the police by the Mayor and Council, the retention of the whole of the liquor licenses by the city, the enlargement of Beacon Hill Park by the addition of considerable land and an extensive water front, the transfer of the Park and the Cemetry to the Corporation and an appropriation for a new school building now in course of construction. These beneficial measures had the united support of your members.

In the management of the most important provincial matters it is to be re[illegible] shown [illegible] government have not people have a right to [illegible] entrusted with the control of public affairs.

It was confidently expected that as soon as the Walkem government took office that the two great works which most directly concern you, the Esquimalt graving dock and the Island railway, would be energetically dealt with and that by the time the former would be completed and the latter under construction. Your reasonable expectations have not been realized; comparatively little has been done upon the dock and work upon it has been suspended. The island railway is not yet commenced and the position of this question is such that it is a matter of grave uncertainty when it will be.

If a government should be judged by its acts, then testing the present one by what it has accomplished in four years it must be acknowledged that its success has not been such as to inspire or justify confidence.

THE ESQUIMALT GRAVING DOCK.

Owing to the unsatisfactory condition of the dock and the rumors as to the extraordinary quantity of cement required for it I deemed it my duty to call for a committee of inquiry to examine into everything connected with it. The investigations of the committee disclosed a state of things worse than expected. To recapitulate here the serious mistakes made or the evidence of business mismanagement would require an address far beyond ordinary limits. I shall therefore take a more fitting opportunity to place you in possession of all the facts and to explain to you the course I took in dealing with the dock, which I believe was in you interest and in that of the Province. The dock ought to have been built before this, and must be pushed to completion as speedily as possible.

THE ISLAND RAILWAY.

The obligation of the Dominion to construct this railway is undoubted. It is a just cause of dissatisfaction that the Dominion government have not yet placed this short but important line of railway under construction as agreed upon. I am strongly of opinion that if Mr. Walkem when in Ottawa in 1880 had pressed with energy and ability the claims of the Province upon the Dominion government they would have become convinced of the desirability of making arrangements to build the Island railway, and would have included it in the contract shortly afterwards made with the syndicate. If re-elected I assure you that you can rely upon my doing all that is possible to bring about the early construction of the Island railway.

THE CHINESE QUESTION.

The members of the last legislature were united in the desire to take all possible steps to stop the influx of Chinese into the Province. Whatever appeared practicable in the way of legislation was attempted, and when it became certain that the powers enjoyed by the Australian colonies by the exercise of which Chinese immigration had been there checked, were not possessed by this Province, but were monopolized by the Dominion at confederation, repeated efforts were made to impress the Dominion government with the urgent need of similar legislation to prevent British Columbia being overrun by Chinamen.

One of the objects of Mr. Walkem's mission to Ottawa in January, 1880, was to stop Chinese immigration. Mr. Walkem had a conversation with Sir John A. Macdonald on the subject, but no practical solution of the labor difficulty in connection with the railway was suggested by him. As sufficient white men for railway work were not in the country it was evident that unless steps were taken to induce white immigration that the Chinese would come. The contractors could not reasonably be expected to bring immigrants; like all employers of labor they take what they can get. My opinion is that the government should have devised a scheme for white immigration in conjunction with the Dominion government, so as to have left no opening for Chinese companies to import as a commercial speculation nine thousand Chinamen into British Columbia. The most forcible representations possible by the Provincial government, legislature and Dominion members to the Dominion government are urgently necessary to induce legislation next session similar to that of the United States.

DEFECTIVE LEGISLATION.

The excessive number of defective Acts passed by the Legislature of British Columbia, as compared with that of any other province in the Dominion, has provoked unfavorable comment. Much slovenly legislation is to be attributed to the Government neglecting, session after session, to have their bills drawn and ready for the legislative when convened. This was a bad habit, as Acts of Parliament should not be hurriedly framed. They require careful preparation, especially those intended to meet the peculiar circumstances of the province, such, for instance, as those dealing with the Chinese. Fatal defects in two bills affecting the Chinese were pointed out to the Government by several members; but the majority unfortunately were misled into the temporary belief that the Attorney-General's knowledge of law was a better guide than their own unassisted judgments.

THE FINANCES.

Having been Chairman of the Finance Committee for three sessions I am tolerably well acquainted [illegible] expenditure of former governments materially reduced the income of the Province applicable to works of utility. Monies that otherwise would have been available for roads, etc., have been required for Interest, Sinking Fund, and the redemption of Debentures. Notwithstanding the large increase of provincial revenue from road tolls, poll tax, etc., consequent upon the Dominion railway work on the Mainland, it has been found barely sufficient to keep existing roads in passable repair. It was hoped that the last four years of forced reduction of expenditure on public works would have placed the finances of the province in such a position as to make possible from now on a much larger expenditure upon them. Unfortunately dock mismanagement and extraordinary cement requirements threaten to add to provincial indebtedness a much larger sum than has been paid off in four years, the result being that the financial aspect of affairs at present is more discouraging than it ever was before.

A POLICY OF PROGRESS.

It is the misfortune of the Province that it is afflicted with a Government without a policy and entirely non-progressive. Here is a country as large as four Oregons and with resources greater and more varied almost at a standstill as regards development, notwithstanding railway construction. Whilst during the last ten years Oregon has added 85,000 to her population, and even little Washington Territory 50,000, the population of big British Columbia has remained almost stationary. The Government have kept the country in the background. People on the search for new homes knew nothing and could learn nothing about British Columbia. To-day a map of the province cannot be obtained here, in San Francisco or elsewhere "for love or money." We should not allow this state of darkness to continue. It is for you to see that your lands are thrown open to settlement, that information concerning them is disseminated by your government, so that a white population similar to that settling in the States and Territories adjoining you is attracted to your shores.

If elected I shall use all the influence I shall possess as your representative to promote the prosperity of British Columbia by encouraging immigration, the settlement of lands and the development of agricultural, manufacturing and mining interests.

THE EGYPTIAN CRISIS.

It is a matter of regret that the great powers should have been at last compelled to use force to those poor little "donkey riders" the Egyptians; but there seems to have been no help for it. The real origin of the trouble may be traced back to the administration of the late Khedive who, attempting to force the country prematurely into a state of modern civilization, anticipated its resources by spending immense sums of borrowed money in the construction of public works and further agravated the evil by reckless personal expenditure. Egypt was finally reduced to a state of bankruptcy, and the Khedive gracefully retired into private life leaving his unfortunate country and the English and French bondholders to settle matters as they pleased. In the Interest of England and France a board of control had meanwhile been established with a view to the better management of Egyptian finances, and giving those who had so hopefully invested in a renovated and progressive Egypt some shadowy chance of getting their money back. A new Khedive was appointed. He is said to be a liberal man with a European education, and well disposed towards foreigners who are capable of promoting in anyway the industrial or commercial interests of the country. From the way nature and circumstances of his appointment the new ruler was by necessity thoroughly identified wsth foreign interference in the government of the country, which was so distasteful to the national party as created and led by Arabi Bey and whose war cry was "Egypt for the Egyptians." By birth Arabi is a fellah or peasant, who entered the army as a private soldier, and who in spite of all obstacles worked his way to the position of minister of war in which he has become a source of so much perplexity to the Khedive, and a troublesome factor in the jealous and halting counsels of the European powers. He is stated to be restless, ambitious and contentious and a staunch Mohammedan, and to have gained his control over the people through the priests. In this connection it is difficult to say what the ultimate aims of such a man may be, as in Mohammedan countries there has lately been an unusual excitement, especially in Turkey, and some three thousand missionaries have gone forth to preach the faith and to promote the favorite idea of a Holy War. As regards Egypt, however, Arabi Bey is the representative of the old rule and the old traditions, whatever the real inspiration may be behind these, and his action in daring the European powers can only be accounted for by the hope that more serious complications might arise. The unfortunate massacre of so many Europeans in the riot at Alexandria is no doubt attributable to the divided and hesitating counsels of France and England, for although the Sultan might be disposed to interfere in Egypt on his own account, as he has acknowledged rights of suzerainty which he would have no objections to improve upon, he evidently did not care about doing so as the mandatory of Europeans. The telegraph informs us that the bombardment of Alexandria by the English fleet was to commence on Tuesday after- [illegible] bly little hope for the country except from a permanent occupation. Without it there will exist no proper organization for its commercial development, social amelioration or financial solvency, and the unfortunate bondholder may continue to mingle his sighs with the groans of the still more unhappy fellah or peasant, whose endless labors have been the real foundations of the state.

City Council.

WEDNESDAY, July 12.

Council met at 4:20 p. m. Present—His Worship the Mayor, in the chair, and Councillors Boyd, Kinsman, Wriglesworth, Baker, Shears and Wilson.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From 17 residents on the north end of Douglas street, asking that the hill near the brick yards be cut down. Also from the surveyor-general, stating that the government were preparing to cut down the hill near the Burnside road and asking for the co-operation of the mayor and council in cutting down the hill inside the city limits. Prayer of the petition granted, the cost not to exceed $250, on the casting vote of the mayor, and the communication of the surveyor-general received and filed.

From James Wylde, with reference to the receipt of city map of Victoria. Received and filed.

From John Teague, asking for the lines on the corner of Johnson and Wharf streets. Request granted.

From Adam Macdonald, asking for aid in purchasing a horse and express wagon. Received and filed.

From employees of the council, asking that working hours be reduced from 10 to 9 hours. Consideration deferred for two weeks.

From D. Morrison, complaining about working at a disadvantage in breaking stone. Referred to street committee.

From T. Montobio, regretting that he had violated the waterworks bylaw in making a connection with the water main. Referred to the water committee and commissioner.

OPENING UP YATES STREET.

Councillor Wriglesworth stated that the committee could not agree with the school trustees, and the council had no other alternative but to open up the street in accordance with the proposition of the executive council. Decisive action ought to be taken at once on this matter. The proposition of the school trustees was to give 50 feet on the northern side of the reserve if the H. B. Co. would give the other 50 feet, or 100 feet, if the question be decided affirmatively by a public vote of the ratepayers.

The city barrister's opinion was that that the government have sole control of the school reserve, and that they have full power to make a transfer of any portion of it, and the trustees have no control over it.

Coun. Wriglesworth moved that the special committee have full power to go on and open up the street in accordance with the order in council of 1881. Seconded by Coun. Boyd.

Coun. Baker moved in amendment that the whole matter be reconsidered. Seconded by Coun. Wilson, who spoke at some length on the question.

His worship stated that the whole blame rested with the local government in not doing what they promised. The government had led the council into a trap, and had caused an expenditure of $400 or $500.

Coun. Wriglesworth contended that the council could not touch any other portion of the reserve than that given by the government. He wanted to get the matter settled and one of the principal streets of the city opened up.

Coun. Kinsman thought that the council should take possession of the street at once and open it up; but there was no necessity of spending money on it this year above the $300 voted.

A discussion here ensued as to whether Coun. Wriglesworth's motion was in order, Coun. Wilson contending that 24 hours' notice should have been given. It was finally decided to be in order.

Motion carried.

TREASURER'S STATEMENT

Was then read and ordered to be spread on the minutes, showing that about $9,000 of the city revenues still remained unexpended.

PUBLIC ACCOUNTS

For the month of June were then read and ordered for payment if found correct.

CEMETERY TELEPHONE.

Coun. Wilson stated that the telephone would cost about $90, instead of $54. He thought the work should be gone on with. Deferred for two weeks.

HOLIDAYS.

The officers of the corporation were granted their usual two weeks' holiday.

THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL'S VISIT.

His Worship called the attention of the Council to the visit of the Princess Louise and the Governor-General, and hoped that the matter would be taken into consideration at an early day.

OVERDRAFT AT BANK

Was ordered to be continued for six months. Finance committee ordered to negotiate with the manager of the bank accordingly.

Council adjourned for two weeks.

TRANSIT OF VENUS.

An Event the Present Generation will Not Again Behold.

The coming Transit of Venus occurring on the 6th of December will be observed by some of the most eminent men of science now living, who will be aided by the most approved modern appliances for the observation of astronomical phenomena. Until quite recently the transit of Venus was considered the most important astronomical phenomenon, as it determined the sun's parallax, or angular distance from the earth. Within the past few years, however, other methods have been proposed, such as calculations based upon the aberrations of the moon in certain portions of its orbit, and similar changes produced upon the planets by reciprocal attraction. These methods, however, have not yet been subjected to repeated tests, and can only be yet accepted as reasonable hypotheses. If the transit of Venus be noted by different observers in various points at considerable distance from each other, it will not be of equal duration at those places, and since the difference of time depends on the parallax of the planet as well as on that of the sun, the latter can be estimated by means of the former. The first transit of Venus from which valuable results were obtained was that of June 3rd, 1769. The Royal Society of London had observations taken at two stations widely apart, Hudson Bay and Otaheite, an island in the South Pacific, the result being the determination of the parallax with great exactness.

The government having appropriated $5,000 to defray the expense of observations of the next transit on the 6th December, the phenomenon will be observed [illegible] stock, Montreal, Fredericton, N. B., and probably Quebec. The last transit in 1874 was not visible in Toronto, but the present one can be viewed to better advantage from this locality than from any other point on the continent, or probably in the world. This is an advantage not to be lost, and Mr. Carpmael of the observatory has now ordered from York, England, a six-inch equatorial achromatic telescope, with which observations can be taken under much more favorable circumstances than ever before done in Toronto. The instrument will be provided with divided circles for directing the telescope to any particular star, and a clock-work mechanism which keeps the tube in line with the star in its course through the heavens.

Before the next transit of Venus can be observed, after that of Dec. 4th, 122 years will have gone into the eternity of the past, and Arcturus and Orion, Sirius and the Pleiades, will shine from their serene spaces upon a world of humanity now non-existent.

The Barbaric Curse.

[WRITTEN FOR THE COLONIST.]

'Tis laughable though 'tis pityful
As we shout till our throat is hoarse
To see our beautiful city full
Of the Heathen Chinee curse.

We rant and rave to prevent them
While under our very nose,
As if the foul fiend had sent them,
They come with each wind that blows.

And now, what vile greed first taught them;
They practice with skillful hand,
Alas, for our fellow workmen
With such rivals in the land.

What a pity that all must suffer
For the gain of a grasping few
As this scum of barbarian gutter
Falls on us like pestilent dew.

We spread our hands in petition
To rulers, our children to save,
All in vain! why, then, call it sedition
Should we chase them back over the wave.

MICHAEL DAIVTT'S PLAN.

How it is Looked Upon by Prominent Irish Leaders.

NEW YORK, July 1.—The Herald's London correspondent has interviewed several persons on Davitt's scheme. Justin McCarthy said: "I do not believe the land nationalization scheme belongs in any way to the domain of practical politics, nor am I at all certain that if it were a scheme capable of realization in our time, it would be beneficial to Ireland under the present conditions. But one thing is clear to my mind, and that is, it is not a scheme with which it is necessary for men like myself, already actively engaged in the daily work of political life, to have at present any need to concur in. Henry George is a thorough believer in this scheme, and is a man by character, ability and inclination well adapted to advocate and proclaim it. Such a man is in his right place, and is doing a great service. If there be any truth in the principle he illustrates, the world will undoubtedly come to know it some day, and with his convictions he is working towards a good purpose. But I think it would be a great mistake if the Irish politicians were to allow their attention to be diverted from the programme of the Land League, by which the Irish are as yet only started in the upper ethics of political phisophy. The effect on Ireland [illegible] anything but hurtful just now; and I for myself trust that Irishmen as a rule, while willing to listen to any proposal that seems worthy of a thoughtful man, will keep firmly to the actual business of those great domestic reforms to which so many of us have pledged ourselves."

Healy, formerly member for Wexford, said: "I think it is a question for the twentieth century, and then it should only be used so far as Ireland is concerned. If we succeed in getting self-government, the raising of any new issues at present would be most impolitic. By operating in the old line of the Land League, the league of Irish landlordism has been nearly broken, and to embark on any new scheme which must undoubtedly create difference of opinion among men who are agreed, might wreck the entire movement."

GRAND OPPOSITION RALLY!

Speeches by Messrs. Wilson, Drake and Davie.

ENTHUSIASTIC APPLAUSE.

GOVERNMENT CONTRACTORS ATTEMPT INTERRUPTION

But are Compelled to Listen to Solid Truths.

Philharmonic Hall was densely crowded last evening in response to the call of Messrs. Drake, Wilson, Davie and Trimble, opposition candidates for the local house.

At 8¼ o'clock His Worship the Mayor was moved into the chair by Mr. M. W. T. Drake. Candidates for the local and Dominion houses were invited to take seats on the platform.

The Mayor stated that the meeting had been called by the Opposition candidates for the local house and bespoke for them a fair hearing. All the meetings had been so far conducted in an orderly manner and he hoped this would be no departure from the rule.

MR. WM. WILSON

Said that four years ago he was returned as one of the representatives of the city and he now appeared before them to give an account of his stewardship. The city members had succeeded in getting control of the police and police magistrate, the conveyance of Beacon Hill and Ogden Point, the cemetery, the liquor licenses and remission of taxation on realestate. (Cheers.) Everyone had heard of the swingbridge. At the close of every session there was a small unappropriated balance and in looking about them the members hit upon the idea of a swingbridge on which to expend Victoria's share of the unappropriated money. An enterprising citizen had got up plans for a toll swingbridge, but he (Mr. W.) and his colleagues decided to go in for a free swingbridge. He had not supported the project because he was the holder of property at the foot of Johnson street. He did not at that time own a foot of ground at the foot of Johnson street. There was, however, no fear of his going in for that bridge now, as an Act of Parliament expressly forbade the erection of such structures across navigable waters. He believed the idea an excellent one, but its erection was now impossible. He was the president of a company that employed Chinese labor. It was started before he took charge of it, and he proceeded to say that every shareholder in the concern regretted he had ever anything to do with it. (Cheers.) The only protection the company had over Canadian boots and shoes was 5 per cent. The company were anxious to employ white labor, but they were actually paying 25 or 30 per cent. more to Chinese than white men were getting in Montreal; but there was this difficulty: if the factory were closed a number of white men would be turned out of employment. He could not recommend the shareholders to close the factory and render $40,000 or $50,000 worth of property valueless. White immigrants should be brought out here. When Mr. Walkem went to Ottawa in 1880 he should have approached the Dominion government to inaugurate a system of white immigration. (Hear.) The Dominion government should have subsidized a line of steamers to bring white immigrants via Canada. The contractors would have given $10 a head, and the Dominion government $10, and the white men sent out would have remained in the country, while the Dominion government would have been recouped the passage money in a short time out of the men's wages. (Cheers.) Mr. Beaven had made out a very good case for himself. So long as he had the power of speech he would never be in want of a trumpeter. (Cheers and laughter.) Everything that was good he took credit to himself, and everything that was bad he laid at the door of his predecessor. (Cheers.) Mr. Wilson then proceeded to review the financial situation of the country in 1875 and subsequent years, showing conclusively that the return for the enormous expenditure of the Walkem government had not been commensurate with the expenditure. He produced figures to show that in New Westminster $189,000 and in Yale $232,000 was spent in 1878 in public works. But those districts afterwards sent men down to oppose the government, while districts that had not been so generously treated voted with the government. When Mr. Walkem left office there had been an over-expenditure of $500,000 and contracts let amounting to $263,000. The liabilities of the country at that time forced the Elliott government to go to London for a loan; but the government was in the hands of the bank, and the loan had to be left in the hands of the bank. (Hear.) The Elliott government had made mistakes; but it was not fair to charge them with a responsibility that did not attach to them. (Hear.) He blamed the Elliott government for many things.

Mr. Carey—What about that $75,000? (Cries of "Put him out!")

The chairman called for order.

Mr. Wilson read from the report of Mr. Beaven's speech to show Mr. B.'s inaccuracy. He happened to be chairman of the finance committee when the second Walkem government came into power, and things were bad enough. He believed in all persons paying their taxes, and didn't blame the premier for making them. (Cheers.) Mr. Wilson further showed how certain debentures had been paid off. Although it was true some taxes had been taken off, other taxes had been imposed—for instance, road tolls. The construction of the railway had increased the annual revenue by $31,000 a year, or $124,000 in four years. Now the people could understand how the debentures were paid off. (Loud cheers.) A good many people thought there had been a tremendous saving in the salaries of officials. At first there was a saving; but the saving amounted to only $4,000 in the four years. The speaker next proceeded to show that the saving claimed by Mr. Beaven was taken from roads and bridges. There was a large saving in surveys, of which Mr. Carey had a big slice. (Laughter.)

Mr. Carey—I didn't put up a swing bridge.

Mr. Wilson—No; I don't think you could. But if you will put up with my remarks for about five minutes I shall be obliged. (Cheers and laughter.) In speaking of the Chinese tax collections he said the attorney-general did not stand by the chairman when he got into trouble. (Hear.) There are 4,250 Chinese in the country, and only one-half pay the head tax. (Hear.) He next referred to the impolicy of the government voting moneys for certain objects which they did not intend to spend and then claiming to have a balance on hand at the end of the year. It would be better if that money had been spent. The cofferdam and drydock next came in for a share of attention. The various items were reviewed, which showed extraordinary waste and want of business knowledge on the part of the government. If we went on at the present rate of progress it would take thirty years to build the dock. (Cheers.)

In reply to Mr. Carey relative to an audit of accounts in 1876 Mr. Wilson said he was not in the house in 1876. (Laughter and cheers.) In 1878 he had advised the government to dispense with the services of an auditor.

Mr. Carey rose to ask a question but attempted a speech. He was hissed down.

Mr. Pusey asked if Mr. Wilson had not promised at a meeting three years ago that he would substitute white for Chinese labor if he got 25 per cent. protection on his goods?

Mr. Wilson—We haven't five per cent. protection over Canadian goods.

Mr. Pusey—I'm afraid you don't want to get rid of the Chinese at all.

Mr. M. W. T. Drake on coming forward was loudly cheered. He had been absent on the Mainland and had not as yet made a personal canvass of the electors. He came before them to show that the government were utterly unworthy of their confidence. (Cheers and hisses.) Mr. Drake said he would prove the correctness of that assertion, but first he would say that the report that he would put his hand into the treasury to pay Reed Brothers was false. He had acted in the capacity of legal adviser to that firm. All he had tried to do was to induce the government to give the firm a hearing in court. This had been refused by the lieut. governor in council. Reed Brothers' claim had been arbitrated in England. Kinipple & Morris were the arbitrators, and they had found that the Province was indebted to the firm in the sum of $11,900. Mr. Beaven had said that the firm was indebted to the government in the sum of $3,450. An objection had been urged to him that he was a lawyer. Why had he not as much a right to go to the house as a hatter, a tinsmith or a clothier? (Loud cheers.) Besides there was a real necessity for a lawyer in the house. The last house had none, because no one would call the late attorney-general a lawyer. (Roars of laughter, cheers and hisses. Twenty bills of the late government had been disallowed at Ottawa. Was that an evidence that there was a lawyer in the House. (Cheers.) Mr. Drake next attacked the financial statement of Mr. Beaven and showed how he had oppressed the settlers and illegally sold their lands for taxes and usurious interest. There was litigation ahead. [A Voice—That's into your hands as a lawyer.] Yes, and I'm sorry for it, but if I go into the house I will put a stop to it. He could not see that there had been a reduction of taxation, and as to the boasted surplus it ought to have been spent on the public roads. Look at the state of the Cariboo road to-day. It will not be passable for six weeks. (Cheers.) The government had been half-hearted in the Chinese matter. They had passed a Chinese Act which if there had been a lawyer in the house they would have known was unconstitutional. (Cheers.) Chinese immigration was an unmixed evil. (Cheers.) Mr. Beaven took credit to himself for having brought in a road toll on rice. It was Mr. Mara who introduced the measure and Mr. Walkem wished him to withdraw it and said he would introduce a bill. He did so and the bill was disallowed. It was Mr. Armstrong, a member of the opposition, who introduced the anti-Chinese resolution last session and not Mr. Beaven. (Cheers.) Mr. Drake then reviewed the futile missions to England on the Island railway matter. The government had now repealed the Island railway grant and the claim on the Dominion government had been thrown away. [Mr. Carey—"That's bad law."] Well, Mr. Carey, you had better practice to-morrow. (Laughter.) The people had to blame the government for throwing away the Island railway. They had parted with it to a bogus company for $10,000 when they refused $750,000 for it seven years ago. (Cheers) Were they going to send the government back to repeat their errors? ("Yes" and a roar of "noes.") He showed how cement had been purchased at an enormous cost. [Mr. Carey—It's all Dominion money.] No, it is not Dominion money. You will find you will have to foot the cement bill. (Cheers.) The government were even now endeavoring to get a loan to meet expenditure on the drydock. The finance minister had showed that he failed in everything. Mr. Drake retired amid long-sustained applause.

Mr. Sea—Asked how about the public schools.

Mr. Carey again attempted to make a speech.

Mr. Drake—Nothing will prevail upon me to alter the present free school system.

Mr. W. Wilson (Fort street) asked Mr. Drake if he remembered saying that a Canadian could not be a gentleman.

Mr. Drake—I never applied the remark to Canadians. I applied it to an individual who is no more. I would be ashamed of myself if I had ever so referred to Canadians as a class.

In reply to Mr. Todd Mr. Drake said he did not think the local parliament had power to pass an anti-Chinese bill.

Mr. Pusey—Do as Mr. Beaven does—employ only white help. (Cheers.)

Mr. Drake—I have done more than Mr. Beaven—I have paid the passage of three white female servants out from England. (Loud cheers.)

In answer to Mr. C. B. Brown, Mr. Drake said he was in favor of a wild land tax.

MR. THEO. DAVIE

was loudly cheered. He said he did not intend to offer any opposition to the public school system. He understood that certain parties had seen fit to circulate a story that he intended to try and break up the free school system which had been so successful here. The party who had made the accusation was Wm. Wilson the brother of A. Wilson a candidate for the local house. (Groans.)

Mr. A. Wilson—I say it to your face. I presented you with a letter in your office and you dashed it on the floor and said, "That's your public schools."

Mr. W. Wilson (Fort street) ascended the platform amid loud cries of "chair," "put him out," etc. He was denied a hearing.

The Mayor—Gentlemen, speakers must not be interrupted. (Cheers.)

Mr. Davie said he was not thrown off his balance a bit by the declamation of the Fort street Wilsons and if he did not satisfy the audience that their accusations were untrue he would not ask them to vote for him. (Hear.) He had told A. Wilson that the report was untrue and he (Mr. A. W) had retorted that the speaker's brother (A. E. B. Davie) was opposed to free education. The Wilsons of Fort street belong to a class of persons who are very unreliable as witnesses. They are so carried away by their feelings that they never know what is said or what is not said to them. (Roars of laughter.) He (Mr. Davie) had telegraphed his brotheer that A. Wilson was circulating a report that he was opposed to public education. The answer had come that the report was a pure fabrication. (Uproarious cheering). He would show them more. The public school act, of which all were so proud, was introduced by the lamented Rocke Robertson at a time when three of that despised class (lawyers) constituted the McCreight ministry, which was the best the Province had ever had. (Cheers.) The Elliott government, desiring to preserve the system, introduced a tax of $3 per head to support the free schools. That tax is now in existence, although under another name. The tax was opposed in the house by whom? Mr. Davie here read from the journals of the house, session 1876, to show that A. E. B. Davie had voted in favor of the tax and that MR. BEAVEN had voted against it. (A storm of hisses, applause and a cry: "Traitor Beaven!") The motives of his brother had been grossly misconstrued. He was thankful for the little education he had received, and he would be a selfish man indeed if he wanted to deprive the children of poor men of a good education. (Cheers.) There was another matter: T. B. Humphreys, financial secretary, had said at Saanich that he and his brother wanted to get into the house to steal $60,000 from the treasury to pay drydock claims. This, of course, was untrue. As for his brother, the firm to which he belonged, as soon as the members decided to enter politics, had declined the business of the local contractors. (Cheers.) He would not impute improper motives to Mr. Hett, the present attorney-general; but that gentleman held a brief for McNamee & Co., of Montreal, until very recently; but Mr. Hett, on assuming the position of attorney-general, transferred the business to another legal firm. Might not the same vile aspersions be cast upon the attorney-general that had been hurled at him and his brother and with equal truth? (Prolonged cheering.) He claimed to have acted honestly by his clients, many of whom he saw about him, and he asked any of them to say differently. (Cheers.) If he went to the house he would act honestly by the electors. Mr. Davie next condemned the government for drawing about them a crowd of persons upon whom they showered important favors. Was there a stove wanted or tinware for the schools or the public buildings, that firm (pointing to the Wilsons, of Fort street) supplied it. (Great cheering.) No wonder they were here to-night to applaud the government. No wonder one of the firm wanted to get into the house. (Cheers.) It was about time this sort of favoritism came to an end—(cheers)—and if he were sent to the house he would try to crush the dishonest system. (Tumultuous applause, amid which Mr. Davie asked the people to return not him alone, but the whole Opposition ticket.)

Mr. A. Wilson (sotto voce)—Honest lawyers!

Mr. Davie—Yes, and honest tinkers, too. You want to get into the House and get the whole of it. (Roars of laughter.) Mr. Davie next referred to the sad spectacle of drunken members being drummed up and led to and from the House to vote for the government. (Cheers and hisses.) The local government officials had been deprived of their rights as citizens. Was that right? (Shouts of "No," and applause.) If he and Mr. Drake were returned they would endeavor to right that wrong and check the Chinese evil. If there had been more lawyers in the House there would have been better laws. (Cheers.) He believed the 95th section of the B. N. A. Act gave the Province power to pass a restrictive Chinese law. The Walkem government thought so in 1878 when they passed the tax act; but the attorney-general did not go into court to defend his own bill. ("Shame.") The learned judge in his decision made no reference to the 95th section of the B. N. A. Act. It probably escaped his notice. The House of Lords had said the provinces had a right to pass laws necessary for their own guidance and for the protection of property and civil rights. Mr. Beaven's remarks the other evening had made it clear to him that the government had not done its duty in this respect. The government should never have asked the permission of the Dominion government to pass a Chinese act. (Cheers.) The powers of each are marked out by medes and bounds. The request was balderdash, and was laughed at at Ottawa. (Tumultuous applause.) No reason had been assigned by Mr. Beaven why there had been no appeal from Mr. Justice Gray's decision. He would go from the courts to Ottawa, and from Ottawa to London if necessary, and would agitate until a remedy was obtained. (Cheers.) The Western States had caused the Eastern States to see this matter in a proper light, and why should we not make Canada view it properly, too. If laws were needed how were they to be passed without lawyers? (Cheers.) It would not cost nearly as much to hire two or three good lawyers as it did to send Mr. Walkem and Mr. DeCosmos to London (Cheers.) Mr. Davie next referred to the descent of vagabonds on the Spanish Main and how they rioted there until lawyers came, to Jack Cade, who prepared to hang all the lawyers, and to Peter the Great, who said there were only two lawyers in Russia and he intended to hang one of them when he went home (Laughter.) We all knew what was the condition of Russia to-day. All free countries were well supplied with lawyers, and wherever lawyers were there were freedom and civil rights (Applause.) In conclusion Mr. Davie said he believed the people of Victoria had a proper appreciation of lawyers, and that they would return two of them to the House (Cheers which were long sustained.)

Mr. W. Wilson (Fort street) came forward amid a storm of hisses, and contended that Mr. A. E. B. Davie had expressed his hostility to free schools.

He was constantly interrupted.

Mr. Pooley—You are a backbiter. Shame.

Mr. Wilson—That telegram is false.

Cries of "sit down," "put him out."

Mr. Wilson—The Davies have had politics on the brain for a year back. They were always asking me, "how's politics?"

Mr. Davie—What has that to do with free schools? (Laughter.)

Mr. Wilson again essayed to speak, but at last gave it up as a bad job and jumped down.

Mr. Drake then announced that the Opposition committee would meet at old Odd Fellows Hall to-morrow (Thursday) evening, and all were invited. (Cheers and cries of "we'll be there.")

After a vote of thanks to the chairman, the meeting adjourned with cheers for the opposition.

Dr. Trimble, who was ill, although present a portion of the time, did not address the meeting.

What Some People Say.

That the attorney-general of England has asked for an injunction to prevent further boring of the Channel tunnel.

That Admiral Seymour was to open fire on Alexandria at 4 o'clock on Tuesday morning.

That the Egyptians will be brought to their knees, although Arabi Pasha professes not to Cair(o).

That one of the government candidates for the city says, "If, we can't force our way in we'll buy our way in." He is evidently a believer in the "Sweet Buy and Buy."

That the latest delegate to England should add two "t's" to his name. Why? Because his mission Cos(t) Mos(t).

That Mr. Justice Walkem is making preparations to reside permanently at Victoria.

That a New York authority says no genuine Apollinaris water comes to America.

That A. B. Gray & Co. have bargains in dry goods, and to-day, by advertisement, tell something about them. Read and save money.

That the new directory will contain original matter of general interest to every one in and out of the Province.

That it will induce many to seek homes in British Columbia.

That the canvass for the Commons and local is being hotly conducted on all sides.

That the Cedar Hill school teacher is breaking the law which relates to the non-interference of members of his profession in politics.

That the Guardian is busily engaged in telling Westministerians what Walkem used to say about Robson. Suppose the Guardian were to change the subject and tell the electors what it used to say about Walkem before it secured the government "ads."

NANAIMO.

(Free Press.)

A telegram was received on Wednesday by Messrs. Johnson & Co., from the wife of the deceased William Dean, asking them to send the body down by the steamship Victoria, in case it had not been buried. An answer was sent to the effect that the deceased had been buried, but, if wished, it could be exhumed and taken to San Francisco on the next trip of the steamship.

Mr. C. Carpentor expects that the ship now being built on the banks of the Millstream will be ready for launching about the end of this month.

The Vancouver Coal Co. have had a survey made between Chase river and the New South Field Mine. A practicable route has been found with a light downward grade from the proposed new mine to Chase river. The drift has been run in between thirty and forty yards into the coal, and the "dusky diamonds" continue of the same excellnnt quality as those found at the commencement. The company are to be congratulated on their favorable prospects.

Vulgar Legislators.

A Washington dispatch says that scenes of disorder and unparliamentary conduct have been repeatedly witnessed in the house during the present session of congress. The speaker has time and again demonstrated his incapacity to quell riotous proceedings until after language unworthy of gentlemen and derogatory of dignity and good order of the house had been used. Members in the heat of personal or partisan discussion have applied language of blackguards to each other. Only Saturday the words "liar," "thief," "perjurer," were applied by Whitthorne to Robeson, and no attempt to punish the offender followed. On Saturday Cox and Butterworth engaged in an unseemly quarrel, when Butterworth applied an expression to Cox which caused all the ladies to leave the gallery.

The Drydock.

Six men, three bosses and forty-four shovels constitute the working force at the dock. This tremendous exhibition of energy on the part of the government is intended to influence the elections in Esquimalt district! At the present rate of progress a competent engineer estimates that it will take exactly 874 years to complete the work. So that the governmental trio will have to attain the age of Methusaleh before they will get the provincial Jumbo off their hands.

Cablegram from Mr. Robert Dunsmuir

A cablegram received from Mr. R. Dunsmuir, by Mr. Jas. Harvey, on Wednesday evening, shows that Mr. D. and family have returned to Glasgow from their trip to the Southern portion of Europe. A copy of the cablegram is published in our advertising columns and states that "he never intended to lock lands from squatters." The cablegram alludes to the Island railway lands and no doubt is intended as an explanation of the words "unoccupied lands" mentioned in the Dunsmuir Bill.—Free Press.

LAKE.—A meeting was held at the school house last evening. Mr. Van Allman presided. Speeches were made by Messrs. Humphreys, Farwell, McTavish, John and McIlmoyl. The feeling was entirely in favor of Opposition and the government candidates were badly used up.

THE BLACK DIAMONDS IN ARMS.

MR. HUMPHREYS' NOMINATION REPUDIATED WITH INDIGNATION.

His Candidature Regarded as an Insult.

The Free Press of yesterday says: The nomination of Mr. T. B. Humphreys is a personal insult to every elector and resident in the district. It is tantamount to saying than within the circle of Nanaimo district two gentlemen cannot be found with sufficient intelligence and public spirit to represent Nanaimo district on the floor of the provincial legislature. We have no need to import candidates any more than we have to import coal. Nanaimo is entitled to return two members to the provincial House of Parliament, and we have nominated for these positions five local gentlemen and one imported from the enemy's camp. There has been no public expression of feeling in this district inviting Mr. Humphreys or any other member to allow his name to be placed in nomination. In conclusion the Free Press advises the provincial secretary to stick to Victoria district, as he has no chance at Nanaimo.

A Great Danger.

The Dominion government at any moment may take possession of the drydock and complete it at provincial expense. Such is the nature of the bargain made by the Walkem government with the Dominion government. To guard against the occurrence of that great financial calamity will be the first duty of the next government. The present government have shown their incapacity to deal with any matter connected with the dock. They plunged the country into a liability of $300,000 for cement alone, and then failed to insure the stock on hand. In small as well as great things they have failed.

NEW WESTMINSTER.

(Columbian.)

In the lowlands, a few mosquitoes.
Fisheries busy; hands scarce.
Copious rains Saturday and Sunday.

One of the Laidlaw boats upset on the sandheads; one Indian saved himself. Another lost with boat and net.

Indian convict escaped from penitentiary. Warden holds fugitives' squaw and children as hostages.

Humphreys, despairing of election for Victoria District, has been nominated for Nanaimo!

McIlmoyl, one of the members for Victoria District in the late legislature, was a slavish supporter of the Walkem administration, and he tells the electors why. At a public meeting in South Saanich last week, he said in praise of the government that it had expended $1,158,000 more than the revenue!

UNFAIR.—Surely Humphreys must be hard pressed in Victoria district. In addressing a meeting a few days ago he endeavored to create prejudice against the Opposition by telling a deliberate untruth. He said the proposition of the Opposition last session was to take one member from Saanich and give it to New Westminster. Tom knows perfectly well that nothing of the sort was ever suggested; that there was no intention, in giving New Westminster another member, to disturb the balance of power between the two sections. Tom got the lie direct in the meeting; but Mr. Bryant, a prominent elector who has hitherto supported the Walkem government, hit the wind-bag hard when he retorted: "I can't see that we could be much worse off with one member than we are now with two." (Cheers and cries of "That's so.")—Columbian.

Eastern States.

CHICAGO, July 10.—Sevier county, Arkansas, was the scene of a tragedy recently which resulted in the death of a guest of George and W. McCraven, they killing him for his money. In arresting the murderers, constable Helhardy was accidentally killed by one of the arrested parties, and George McCraven was shot dead by a deputy.

At 8 o'clock this morning Charles S. Stiles, for many years caller of the Chicago call board, and a well-known man in board of trade circles, was shot through the heart and instantly killed by a young woman of doubtful reputation, who passed under the name of Madeline Stiles.

IN British Columbia, when the people want to describe a man as particularly obnoxious, they term him a Grit. At a recent political meeting at Saanich, in the Vancouver district, a Mr. Gordon said in the course of his speech: "He (Gordon) had been represented as a Grit. The report was of a malicious character, made with a view of injuring him, and was without any foundation whatever. His family had always been conservatives." It is a pity that in such a pleasant place as the Pacific Province respectable people should be subject to such libels.—Toronto Mail.

THEY MUST GO!—Mr. John, one of the candidates (and a most likely one) for Victoria district, speaking at a meeting last week, said: If the Chinese continued to come in as they are doing we should either have to leave or make them leave. (Cheers.) If the government had done their duty we should have had white instead of Chinese laborers.—Columbian.

DREADFUL!—The Guardian (Government) has this to say about Mr. Armstrong's return, from which it may be concluded that the Guardian is aware that the country (that is, the government ads) cannot be saved: It is most distressing to observe the perfect apathy of the electors in respect to their representation, and leads one to believe that responsible government has few charms for our people. They cannot complain if the persons who may be elected are perfectly regardless of their duties.

VICTORIA, 11th July, 1882.

TO THE EDITOR:—I observe a letter in your paper stating that Mr. Beaven employs two Chinamen. I desire to contradict the statement as far as I am concerned, as I have not employed Chinese or purchased anything from them for years. Please insert this in your paper.

Yours, obediently,
ROBERT BEAVEN.

Denial.

The organ denies that Mr. Humphreys intends to desert Victoria district; yet we read in the same paper that Mr. Humphreys had been nominated for Nanaimo! This could not have been done without his consent, or, at least, his connivance. Honest Tom and his organ-grinder must be left to make their stories fit. At present there is a wide divergence.

A CHANGE.

Our many readers will gladly welcome the introduction into general use of the pleasant remedy Syrup of Figs, which is as agreeable to the taste as the fruit from which it is made, and better than oil, salts, pills or any of the bitter, and nauseous medicines of bygone days. As it costs nothing to try it, and always gives satisfaction, everyone is using it wherever known. Langley & Co., Wholesale Druggists, are agents for Victoria and B. C. 2

TO THE ELECTORS OF VICTORIA CITY.

GENTLEMEN—IN OFFERING MYSELF AS A candidate for your suffrages at the ensuing election for the local house, I must state that I can subscribe to few of the acts of the Walkem-Beaven administration. Their policy has been fraught with disaster to the province and would soon have led it to destruction.

Elected upon the solemn assurance that they would use every effort available to stop the influx of Chinese, they violated their pledge by contenting themselves with passing a hasty and ill-considered restrictive act which only required to be sworn into a statute of law to be ignored, and, to mark their insincerity in the matter, when the Chinamen brought the government into court to defend the act no endeavour was made to support it. Since then no attempt whatever has been made by the government to check the growing evil and not so much as a representation on the subject has been made at Ottawa, notwithstanding that a friendly government has been in power ready to promptly further the wishes of the Province in this respect. I consider that under the "British North America Act, 1867," which concedes to the Province the exclusive right to deal with property, civil rights, direct taxation, and matters of local import, the local legislature has power to legislate upon this all important topic and if elected I shall advocate a well-digested measure aimed at the repression of Chinese immigration, and shall at the same time move to bring the subject prominently before the Dominion government so that concurrent action may be taken by the two governments.

The local government have seriously jeopardised the island railway. By concluding their negotiations with the Imperial and Dominion governments concerning the drydock without ascertaining the cost of the work it now appears that they have involved the Province in an indefinite liability ranging from $250,000 to $500,000 perhaps more regarding an enterprise which it was proudly boasted would not cost the Province one dollar. By their system of false economy in refusing to augment the civil staff and to render the gaols in remote districts secure they have caused the loss o some valuable lives notably, Ussher and Kelly a Kamloops and Jenkinson at Cassiar—to say nothing of the squandering of thousands of dollars in abortive trials of the culprits and fruitless assizes. Oppressive tax sales have been proceeded with notwithstanding the assurance of the Minister of Justice that the attempt to collect penalties and usurious rates of interest was illegal. The name and credit of the Province have been disgraced by the action of the government in dishonoring their own vouchers and by the almost universal bad faith exhibited towards those with whom they have had monetary dealings.

Such patronage as the government has at command should be evenly distributed, in place of which nearly the whole of the government work has been given to a favored few. Assizes have been held to suit the political exigencies of ministers, hence prisoners have been kept awaiting trial sometimes six, sometimes twelve months, and life has been rendered insecure by making coroner's inquests, in cases of death which are unaccounted for, the exception instead of the rule.

If elected I shall use my best endeavors to promote assisted immigration and to disseminate information regarding the province in the shape of maps, hand books and so forth. I shall to the best of my ability independently support any government when acting in the interests of the country and will oppose them when doing otherwise.
